Dear Community Members,

The City of Snohomish is here for you and continuing to provide essential services for your home and business during this time, such as law enforcement, water and wastewater services, transportation and building permits.

For your continued health, our parks are open. Although we have posted limited access notices in response to COVID-19, and closed some facilities within our parks including public restrooms, playgrounds, shelters and sport field rentals.

Please continue to walk through our beautiful park system, get some fresh air, but maintain the 6-foot rule from those not living in your immediate household. It has been encouraging to see entire families (parents, kids and the dog) walking together through our neighborhoods, greeting their fellow Snohomish citizens while maintaining proper distancing.

I have implemented a number of initiatives to help. Below are a few links to recent media coverage and City newsflashes:

Snohomish Mayor John Kartak on how city restaurants are evolving to serve customers during the closures (<https://omny.fm/shows/the-jason-rantz-show/snohomish-mayor-john-kartak-on-how-restaurants-are>)

Snohomish Mayor John Kartak discusses what his city is doing to help local business and the launch of Virtual Snohomish (<http://kvi.com/podcast/kirby-wilbur-show/kirbycast-march-20-5pm-hour>)
